

November Design Challenge!

Winter mood

Due: Thursday, November 30th, 2017

Problem: Winter is coming. The weather is beginning to change. As we prepare for winter our mood may change as well.

Construct:

- Design a table centerpiece, placemat, wall hanging or another artistic representation that shows how winter makes you feel.
- Mood can be expressed in words, pictures or colors.
- You must be able to explain each element of your design
- Use several adjectives to describe how winter makes you feel

Research:

Make a list of all the adjectives that describe you during the winter. You need at least four adjectives.

Websites:

Use the websites below to research ways to use recyclable to make art/crafts. YOU MAY NOT RECREATE THE EXAMPLES ON THESE WEBPAGES. Use the websites as a reference to create your own unique design to show how you feel in the winter.

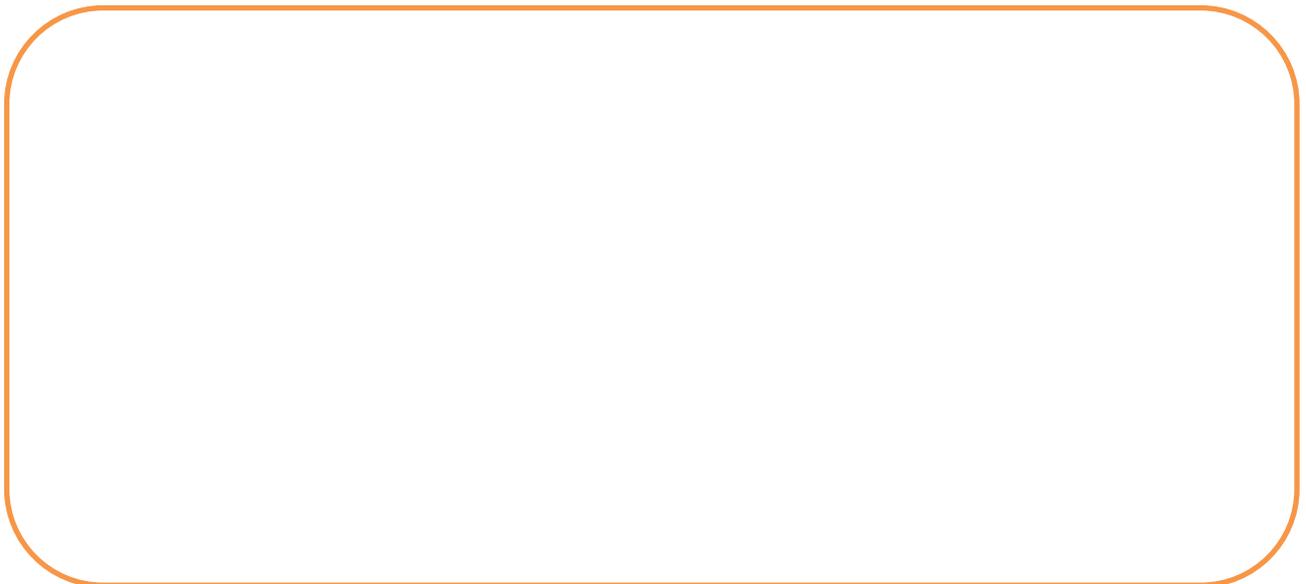

<http://www.lushome.com/artistic-ways-recycle-bottle-caps-recycled-crafts-kids/58967>

<https://www.education.com/activity/recycled-crafts/>

<https://kinderart.com/category/art-lessons/recycle/>

Draw:

Draw your design below. Label the parts with the adjectives you listed above. Describe your design on the lines below.

Design Challenge Rubric:

	Fully Met	Partially Met	Not Met
Design
Prototype was created using recyclable materials
Design was unique
Explanation
At least for adjectives were clearly demonstrated in the design
Clear explanation of design choice			